

Session 2 – Energy for the New Data Age

CLE Relay 2026

Time: 11:30 am – 12:30 pm PT | 1:30 – 2:30 pm CT | 2:30 – 3:30 pm ET | 7:30 – 8:30 pm BST

Date: Monday, June 22, 2026

Length: 60 minutes

Presenters: Randy Mehrberg, Niqui Kohli, Zachary C. Schauf, and Juliana Brint

The rapid expansion of AI data centers is reshaping energy markets and driving a new wave of complex legal and regulatory challenges. Jenner & Block lawyers examine the infrastructure powering the AI economy, including FERC interconnection reform, hyperscaler power procurement strategies, innovative deal structures and contracting models, risk allocation in long-term energy agreements, and the state and federal policy issues shaping energy strategy.

This session has particular relevance for clients in technology, energy, manufacturing, real estate, and financial services navigating the intersection of energy law, infrastructure investment, and AI-driven power demand.
