

Partners Ashley Callen and Laurel Loomis Rimon to Moderate Sessions at 2026 Women, Influence & Power in Law Conference

Event

September 14, 2026 — September 16, 2026

Jenner & Block is proud to sponsor the 2026 Women, Influence & Power in Law (WIPL) Conference, taking place September 14–16 in Nashville, Tennessee.

Partners Ashley Callen and Laurel Loomis Rimon will each moderate a session at this year's WIPL conference, joining legal leaders from across the country for three days focused on leadership development, networking, and career advancement.

Ashley, Co-Chair of the firm's Congressional Investigations Practice, will moderate "Steady Under Scrutiny: A Practical Guide to Navigating Government Investigations," drawing on her background in congressional oversight to guide a conversation on how in-house and outside counsel can navigate high-stakes government inquiries with confidence.

Laurel, Co-Chair of Jenner's Fintech and Crypto Assets Practice and founder of its Payments Practice, will moderate "Innovation in the Gray Zone: Operating Responsibly Ahead of Enforcement," bringing her experience in financial regulatory enforcement and emerging fintech and crypto issues to a discussion on how companies can innovate responsibly while staying ahead of regulatory risk.
