Overview

Alex Wang is an associate in Jenner & Block's Litigation Practice.

Before joining Jenner & Block, Alex was a legal engineer at a legal AI startup, where he built and calibrated agents to automate regulatory compliance review for the world's largest asset managers. He also served as Manager of Research in the Office of the President at Emerson Collective, focused on AI and education.

Earlier in his career, Alex served in the White House Domestic Policy Council as Director for Immigration Policy and, previously, as Deputy Director for Immigration, where he led interagency policy on immigration issues including the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) program. He clerked for the Honorable Kim M. Wardlaw on the US Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit and was a Heyman Fellow with the House Judiciary Committee's Immigration and Citizenship Subcommittee.

Alex is a Rhodes Scholar and a Truman Scholar.
