

Lindsay Harrison to Moderate Panel at IBA Annual Conference Copenhagen 2026

Event

October 8, 2026 — October 8, 2026

On October 8, Washington, DC Office Managing Partner Lindsay Harrison will moderate a panel at the International Bar Association (IBA) Annual Conference in Copenhagen.

The session, titled “Hiring New Counsel in Foreign Lands,” is presented by the IBA's Leisure Industries Section, with the support of the IBA Law Firm Management Committee. The speakers will examine how hospitality, leisure, and gaming companies identify and select new outside counsel when entering jurisdictions where they have no existing legal relationships. Panelists will also discuss how artificial intelligence is affecting that process, including whether it gives general counsel greater flexibility and independence in hiring decisions.

Joining Lindsay on the panel are Bhavana Boggs, Chief Legal Counsel for Europe, Middle East and Africa at Marriott International; Matthew Fore, Vice President & Senior Counsel, Global Dispute Resolution and Information Governance at Hilton Hotels; and Tiziana Sucharitkul, Managing Partner of Tilleke & Gibbins and Co-Chair of the IBA's Law Firm Management Committee.

As Co-Chair of the firm's Real Estate and Hospitality Practice, Lindsay represents brands and operators in their most significant disputes with owners, consumers, and government regulators. She is a member of the International Society of Hospitality Consultants and serves as Treasurer of the IBA's Leisure Industries Section.
