Overview

Samantha Yi represents clients navigating high-stakes litigation. She has experience in multi-agency white collar investigations and advises clients on complex issues of statutory, constitutional, and administrative law. Samantha also has experience preparing clients to appear before Congress.

Samantha served as Associate Staff Secretary in the Biden White House, where she helped prepare the President's daily briefing book and worked on novel issues of law and policy. She leverages her experience as a judicial clerk in the Northern District of California to craft compelling arguments for her clients. Prior to joining the firm, she was an associate at another AmLaw 100 firm in Washington, DC. Samantha received her JD, cum laude, from New York University School of Law, where she was senior articles editor of the NYU Journal of Legislation & Public Policy.

Samantha holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Northwestern University's School of Education and Social Policy (SESP).
