

Jenner & Block Partner Suedeek Kelly Speaks at ABA Environment, Energy, and Resources Fall Conference

Event

October 15, 2026

Speakers: Suedeek G. Kelly

On October 15, Partner Suedeek Kelly spoke on a panel at the American Bar Association (ABA) Section of Environment, Energy, and Resources 34th Fall Conference in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

The session, titled “Curbing Carbon, or Regulatory Rollback: EPA’s GHG Emission Standards,” examined the Environmental Protection Agency’s (EPA) repeal of greenhouse gas emission standards for fossil fuel-fired power plants. The discussion covered the legal and technical backdrop to the repeal, the future of emissions reduction technology, including carbon capture and storage, and the options available to states in a changing regulatory landscape.

Suedeek and Jenner colleague Meghan Greenfield also contributed to a paper on the topic for conference attendees.

A former commissioner of the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC), Suedeek is based in Jenner’s Washington, DC, office.
