Overview

John Mathias is a senior litigation partner and Co-Chair of the firm's Insurance Recovery and Counseling Practice. A veteran trial lawyer and courtroom advocate, he has represented clients in their most challenging matters across a diverse range of sectors, including in the energy, manufacturing, railroad, trucking, fintech, food production, finance, aviation, life insurance, and reinsurance spaces, among many others. Clients value his sophisticated judgment and analysis, strategic advice, and ability to simplify and explain complex business disputes to judges, juries, and arbitrators.

John is nationally and internationally recognized in the insurance and reinsurance fields. Chambers USA has consistently given him top ranking in Insurance Disputes for many years. He has co-authored two leading treatises on insurance coverage disputes and D&O litigation. He has been a Fellow of the American College of Coverage Counsel since its inception.

John also sits as an arbitrator in commercial disputes, including those involving insurance and reinsurance. He is a member of the Commercial Panel of the American Arbitration Association (AAA-ICDR).

John began his career serving as a trial defense counsel in the Navy JAG Corps. Upon discharge he was evaluated as "undoubtedly one of the finest trial lawyers in the Navy today." He has devoted himself to pro bono defense work over the course of his career, during which he has handled five death penalty cases as well as many other trials and appeals.

John has been a career long member of the American Bar Association's Section of Litigation, where he has served in many leadership capacities including on its governing Council. He was one of the original organizers of the Section's highly successful Insurance Coverage Litigation Committee. He is the founder of the Dartmouth Lawyers Association, has served as President of Dartmouth's Association of Alumni, and is a former President of the Harvard Law Society of Illinois.

Before starting any engagement, I make sure there is a mutual understanding of client objectives so that everything we do decreases the distance to those objectives.”
