

Client Alert: Strings Attached: COVID-19 Funds and the New House Select Committee

Publications

April 7, 2020

By: Emily M. Loeb, Philip B. Sailer

Now that Congress has passed, and the President has signed, historic stimulus bills in response to the COVID-19 pandemic, the practical realities of dispersing trillions of dollars in federal funding and overseeing that distribution have taken center stage. Between the three bills that have been enacted to address this unprecedented crisis so far, various agencies across the federal government will provide over $2.2 trillion to companies across a number of industries that have been hit hardest by the pandemic, in addition to the general public.
