

Client Alert: US-EU Privacy Shield Invalidated – What Now?

Publications

July 16, 2020

The Court of Justice of the European Union (CJEU) ruled on 16 July 2020 in the case of Data Protection Commissioner v. Facebook Ireland Limited and Maximillian Schrems (Schrems II) that the US-EU Privacy Shield is invalid. This important mechanism had previously allowed certain transfers of personal data from the European Economic Area (EEA) to the United States, and was widely used by international corporations. In many respects, the Privacy Shield was considered to be preferable to the other transfer mechanisms provided for by the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), and its demise will leave a substantial number of organisations looking for alternatives.

To read the full article, please click here.

Related Capabilities

Data Privacy and Cybersecurity

Related Locations

Chicago

London

the laws of the State of Delaware, USA and is authorised and regulated by the Solicitors Regulation Authority with SRA number 615729. Information regarding the data we collect and the rights you have over your data can be found in our Privacy Notice. For further inquiries, please contact dataprotection@jenner.com.

Stay Informed

