

Client Alert: The Key Open Questions That Will Determine the Next Four Years of SEC Enforcement

Publications

February 12, 2021

As President Biden's administration gets into full swing, many expect future Chairman Gary Gensler's SEC to take a more aggressive approach to enforcement. Public companies and other market participants are left wondering what, exactly, that means. In this client alert, we take a detailed look at where the SEC is starting from, what has happened since January 20th, where it goes from here, and what interested parties should be watching for as the "new" SEC ramps up.

New York University School of Law's Program on Corporate Compliance and Enforcement republished the alert on its blog.

To view the full alert, click here.

Related Attorneys

Michael F. Linden

Associate

mlinden@jenner.com

+1 312 840 7476

Charles D. Riely

Partner

criely@jenner.com

+1 212 891 1686

Related Locations

Chicago

New York

© 2026 Jenner & Block LLP. Attorney Advertising. Jenner & Block LLP is an Illinois Limited Liability Partnership including professional corporations. This publication, presentation, or event is not intended to provide legal advice but to provide information on legal matters and/or firm news of interest to our clients and colleagues. Readers or attendees should seek specific legal advice before taking any action with respect to matters mentioned in this publication or at this event. The attorney responsible for this communication is Brent E. Kidwell, Jenner & Block LLP, 353 N. Clark Street, Chicago, IL 60654-3456. Prior results do not guarantee a similar outcome. Jenner & Block London LLP, an affiliate of Jenner & Block LLP, is a limited liability partnership established under the laws of the State of Delaware, USA and is authorised and regulated by the Solicitors Regulation Authority with SRA number 615729. Information regarding the data we collect and the rights you have over your data can be found in our Privacy Notice. For further inquiries, please contact dataprotection@jenner.com.

Stay Informed

