

“Supplier Contract Disputes in the Age of COVID-19,” Retail Litigation Center

Event

May 5, 2020

On May 5, 2020, Partner Elizabeth A. Edmondson spoke on “Supplier Contract Disputes in the Age of COVID-19” at the annual meeting of the Retail Litigation Center. Her talk addressed the contractual provisions and common-law doctrines that retailers and their suppliers may invoke in response to supply chain disruptions caused by the current pandemic. Ms. Edmondson is a commercial litigator focusing on domestic and international arbitrations concerning complex contractual disputes.

Related Attorneys

Elizabeth A. Edmondson

Partner

eedmondson@jenner.com

+1 212 891 1606

Stay Informed

