

“ICE's SEVP Guidance for International Students and Higher Education,” Presidents’ Alliance on Higher Education and Immigration

Event

July 10, 2020

On July 10, Jenner & Block Partner Ishan K. Bhabha offered his insights on the new ICE rule that prevents international students from continuing their study in the United States - and being at risk of deportation - if enrolled in all online classes or attending institutions that continue with all online classes for fall 2020. Mr. Bhabha and the other panelists shared crucial campus and student perspectives and discussed potential litigation and advocacy opportunities. Panelists included representatives from Penn State, Carnegie Mellon, and Cornell.
