

“Representing Clients in Congressional Investigations 2020,” DC Bar

Event

September 4, 2020

On September 8, Jenner & Block Partner Emily M. Loeb will co-present a CLE webinar hosted by the DC Bar. The program will focus on how Congress conducts its investigations, including the unique scope of its subpoena power and enforcement procedures. Joined by other experienced practitioners, Emily will share insights on representing clients in this unusual environment and how to deal with the corresponding risks associated with House and Senate investigations. Those who attend will learn about recent Court decisions, the way congressional staffers conduct these investigations, and the options in responding to inquiries. Titled “Representing Clients in Congressional Investigations 2020,” the webinar will offer two credit hours and take place at 1:00 pm ET. Ms. Loeb is co-chair of Jenner & Block’s Government Controversies and Public Policy Litigation Practice and a partner in the Investigations, Compliance, and Defense Practice. Prior to joining the firm, she served as an Associate Counsel in the Office of the White House Counsel, where she advised senior White House and Executive Branch Agency officials on high priority litigation and congressional and other investigations, managing risk on a variety of policy initiatives.
