

“Electronic Contracts: Best Practices and Legal Implications,” Lorman

Event

October 22, 2020

In this live webinar, Jenner & Block Partner Christopher Tompkins will revisit the legal underpinnings for electronic transactions, all the more important in an era of remote work due to the pandemic. Topics will include the basic legal principles that validate use of electronic records and signatures in commercial transactions and how they apply in practice. Mr. Tompkins will also discuss practical issues, such as the ease with which contracts can be formed electronically, including over email, and the role of specialized software. Sponsored by Lorman, the webinar will be held on November 17, 2020, from 1:00 to 2:30 pm Eastern. Mr. Tompkins has extensive experience assisting clients resolve disputes involving a variety of subject matters and venues, including the sale of goods under the Uniform Commercial Code. He has assisted clients with an array of matters including the failure to supply, early termination, pricing, product quality and breach of warranty, and supplier bankruptcies.
