

“Pandemics: Property/Business Interruption Insurance and the Global COVID-19 Outbreak,” 2020 IBA Conference

Event

November 6, 2020

On November 10, Jenner & Block Partner David M. Kroeger will serve as session chair and moderator of a panel discussion at the International Bar Association 2020 Virtually Together Conference. Titled “Pandemics: Property/Business Interruption Insurance and the Global COVID-19 Outbreak,” the panel will explore emerging insurance implications of pandemics, as viewed from the perspective of different parts of the world. The discussion will focus on insurance claims actually or potentially arising out of pandemics for business interruption losses, including the potential implications of such claims to the reinsurance markets. Mr. Kroeger is co-chair of the firm’s Insurance Recovery and Counseling Practice and its Reinsurance Practice and is a member of the Complex Commercial Litigation Practice.
