Overview

Casey Carlson assists clients in all stages of litigation by drafting pleadings, conducting discovery, and researching legal questions. Her practice includes work in antitrust litigation, class action defense, DOJ investigations, the higher education industry, trade secrets litigation, and energy law.

Casey brings experience in government and the education industry to her practice. Prior to law school, she served as an intern in the United States Senate and as a research associate for an education consulting firm. Casey also has an active pro bono practice, representing prisoners in federal civil rights litigation.
