Overview

Dagny Lu helps telecommunications providers, satellite operators, and technology companies navigate complex regulatory and policy issues. Dagny provides strategic and compliance advice on spectrum, broadband, and privacy matters, and advocates for clients before federal and state agencies.

Dagny regularly assists on licensing, policy, and regulatory matters concerning broadband deployment and service, spectrum allocations, and satellite operations. She also provides counseling on privacy compliance and data security incident response. Prior to joining the firm, Dagny was an associate at another law firm, where she counseled clients on a wide array of regulatory and transactional matters relating to data privacy and technology.
