

Client Alert: NCAA v. Alston: The Dawn of a New Era for US College Sports?

Publications

June 23, 2021

In a decision with potentially far-ranging implications for college sports, the US Supreme Court on Monday unanimously upheld a ruling that the NCAA's limits on education-related benefits for college athletes violated federal antitrust law. As a result of the decision in NCAA v. Alston, schools may offer athletes payments and other benefits related to education, such as laptops, study abroad funding, paid internships, and post-eligibility scholarships at graduate school.

To read the full client alert, please click here.

Related Attorneys

Ishan K. Bhabha

Co-Managing Partner

+1 202 639 6000

Related Capabilities

Appellate and Supreme Court

Education

Related Locations

Washington, DC

© 2026 Jenner & Block LLP. Attorney Advertising. Jenner & Block LLP is an Illinois Limited Liability Partnership including professional corporations. This publication, presentation, or event is not intended to provide legal advice but to provide information on legal matters and/or firm news of interest to our clients and colleagues. Readers or attendees should seek specific legal advice before taking any action with respect to matters mentioned in this publication or at this event. The attorney responsible for this communication is Brent E. Kidwell, Jenner & Block LLP, 353 N. Clark Street, Chicago, IL 60654-3456. Prior results do not guarantee a similar outcome. Jenner & Block London LLP, an affiliate of Jenner & Block LLP, is a limited liability partnership established under the laws of the State of Delaware, USA and is authorised and regulated by the Solicitors Regulation Authority with SRA number 615729. Information regarding the data we collect and the rights you have over your data can be found in our Privacy Notice. For further inquiries, please contact dataprotection@jenner.com.

Stay Informed

