

“Federal Cannabis Reform: Inevitable but Inevitably Piecemeal,” Law360

Publications

August 6, 2021

In this article, Jenner & Block Associates E.K. McWilliams and Nika Arzoumanian examine the “piecemeal” efforts to federally legalize cannabis. “The likely trajectory of marijuana reform in the US will be shaped by stakeholders both for and against ending the federal prohibition on cannabis. While institutions that are invested in cannabis remaining illegal under federal law will have sway, state-level legalization has resulted in powerful stakeholders who are invested in the new normal of legalized marijuana, including individual workers, multistate cannabis operators, and states,” they conclude.

Related Capabilities

Cannabis

Related Locations

Chicago

© 2026 Jenner & Block LLP. Attorney Advertising. Jenner & Block LLP is an Illinois Limited Liability Partnership including professional corporations. This publication, presentation, or event is not intended to provide legal advice but to provide information on legal matters and/or firm news of interest to our clients and colleagues. Readers or attendees should seek specific legal advice before taking any action with respect to matters mentioned in this publication or at this event. The attorney responsible for this communication is Brent E. Kidwell, Jenner & Block LLP, 353 N. Clark Street, Chicago, IL 60654-3456. Prior results do not guarantee a similar outcome. Jenner & Block London LLP, an affiliate of Jenner & Block LLP, is a limited liability partnership established under the laws of the State of Delaware, USA and is authorised and regulated by the Solicitors Regulation Authority with SRA number 615729. Information regarding the data we collect and the rights you have over your data can be found in our Privacy Notice. For further inquiries, please contact dataprotection@jenner.com.

Stay Informed

