

Ishan Bhabha Named 2021 Rising Star by The National Law Journal

Recognition

August 24, 2021

Partner Ishan K. Bhabha has been recognized among the 2021 Rising Stars by The National Law Journal. The annual list highlights the top 40 lawyers under 40 in the Washington, DC region who have proved to be innovators in their field by securing significant victories for clients and have demonstrated a steadfast commitment to pro bono work.

In its profile of Mr. Bhabha, The NLJ highlights his work on the team that successfully challenged former President Trump's attempted rescission of the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals program. The case was interesting from a legal perspective, Mr. Bhabha tells The NLJ. "But more important," he adds, "the case was deeply meaningful because we as a team knew that winning would mean more than 700,000 young people could continue to live successfully in the U.S., the only home they had ever truly known."

Asked for his key to success, Mr. Bhabha responds: "The most important thing is to truly understand what's driving the client and what their bigger strategic goals are. Without that, any legal strategy is necessarily incomplete, and you can't provide the real reassurance and counseling great lawyers are known for."
