

“Future-Proofing Our Energy System,” The Chicago Council on Global Affairs

Event

June 15, 2021

On June 17, Jenner & Block Partner Shoba Pillay will be a panelist at this event, addressing how to build resilience, sustainability, and equity into future energy systems during bouts of extreme weather and cyber threats. Panelists will discuss how to protect critical infrastructure in the face of rapidly changing climate. They will also offer considerations for the future of energy: what it will look like and how it will safeguard against the vulnerabilities shown in recent cybersecurity and extreme-weather events. The virtual panel will begin at 12:30 pm CDT. To RSVP, please click here. Ms. Pillay is a member of the firm’s Investigations, Compliance, and Defense Practice, and the Data Privacy and Cybersecurity Practice. As a former federal prosecutor in Chicago, she was tasked with investigating and prosecuting matters involving a range of federal crimes, including cybercrime, terrorism, espionage, export control and sanctions violations, and complex fraud.
