

International Arbitration

As business transactions across borders and jurisdictions proliferate, international arbitration has become an ever more popular method of resolving commercial and investment disputes. Through every stage of the arbitral process, we deliver bespoke strategies and exceptional client service to multinational companies, investors, government entities, and states in key arbitral seats across Europe, the United States, Asia, Africa, and the Middle East.

We also provide pre- and post-transaction counseling to structure investments in order to maximize enforceability of our clients' rights and to mitigate the risks of potential disputes.

With an integrated team of dedicated lawyers across our London and US offices, we combine top-tier legal analysis, skillful advocacy, and decades of experience representing clients in complex and demanding arbitrations across the globe.

Broad Knowledge and Deep Experience

Clients around the world call on us to help navigate complex, high-value commercial and treaty disputes. Our practice is geared towards our clients' most valuable and challenging issues, and we practice across a broad range of industries, including manufacturing, energy, mining, telecommunications, aerospace and defense, hospitality, transportation, construction, infrastructure, financial services, and healthcare. This experience gives us a significant advantage in shaping persuasive arguments and crafting creative, practical arbitration strategies. Not only are we effective during the dispute itself, but we also excel in enforcing arbitral awards and related judgments, which are often the most challenging aspect of an arbitration proceeding.

Navigating the Unique Aspects of Arbitration

With decades of experience and strong relationships with and knowledge of the arbitrators and arbitral institutions around the world, we bring insight and strategy into clients' most complex disputes. We combine the firm's well-known trial advocacy skills with a sensitivity to the nuances of international arbitration as we prepare evidence, and arguments appropriate to the forum and to the tribunal.

Positioned for the Future

In a changing and uncertain world, Jenner's international arbitration team has the knowledge, skill, and experience required to navigate our clients' most complex issues. Our team understands not just the procedures, but the commercial drivers and nuances around choosing a particular arbitration strategy, which enables us to consistently deliver results that exceed our clients' expectations.

Experience

- Achieved an award of approximately $1.4 billion in favor of our client, a leading steel manufacturer, in an ICC international arbitration.
- Acting for a west-African state in related ICC and ICSID arbitration claim of over $1.8 billion brought by a mining group concerning the suspension and termination of the group's long-term mining agreement to mine iron ore.
- Achieving an award of more than $100 million for an oil major in Swiss Chambers of Commerce international arbitration proceedings arising from an M&A transaction.
- Representing a defence contractor in a contractual dispute arising out of a government contract.
- Representing an Italian investor in an investment claim against an Eastern European state regarding real estate projects.
- Successfully defended a $1.5 billion ICC claim in New York for breach of a "best efforts" contract against our client, a Japanese pharmaceutical company.
