

Government Strategy

Operating at the intersection of law, business, and policy, we bring a holistic perspective to solving the business challenges facing our clients. We rely on our substantial regulatory and industry experience, long-standing tradition of public service, and sophisticated knowledge of government to consider all dimensions of an issue. We bring together the right leaders from all areas of the firm to deliver solutions, working seamlessly with lawyers in our investigations, litigation, and transactional departments to provide clients with an integrated approach that helps them reach their goals.

From regulatory challenges to Congressional investigations, clients benefit from our deep bench of former officials from key government entities in the United States and United Kingdom, including the US Department of Justice, Securities and Exchange Commissions, Federal Communications Commission, Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Government Accountability Office, Commodity Futures Trading Commission, Consumer Finance Protection Bureau, the White House, the US Senate, the US Army, the US Air Force, and the UK Ministry of Defence, among others. Our many former in-house counsel offer extensive industry insight and an understanding of the internal pressures that companies face. This combined experience provides clients with the understanding of the regulatory, political, and public landscape needed to guide their interactions with governmental bodies.

With experience across a range of highly regulated industries in transition, including aerospace and defense, education, energy, government contracting, technology, and telecommunications, among others, we are at our best helping clients through their most difficult challenges and most important opportunities. We also support the unique legal needs of Native American tribes and individuals.
