Overview

Herb Abercrombie manages the day-to-day operations of the Washington office, including the budget, expenses, real estate, facilities, HR related functions, office services, hospitality, communications, and the professional staff. He works closely with the DC office managing partner and the firm’s chief operating officer to manage and execute firm policies and procedures.

Before joining Jenner & Block, Herb served as a director of human resources and in the benefits area at two AmLaw 100 law firms. Herb is a member of the Capital Chapter Association of Legal Administrators and is their recent past treasurer. He graduated from the University of Maryland with a degree in economics and has a graduate degree in business administration from the University of Maryland, University College. He’s a big supporter of N Street Village, the largest provider of housing and essential services for women experiencing homelessness in Washington, DC.
