(LONDON – July 3, 2024) Jenner & Block has expanded its London Litigation Practice with the addition of Ed Davis, a leading commercial litigator with more than 20 years of experience resolving a wide range of domestic and cross-border disputes.

Ed's practice focuses on complex and high value financial disputes and investigations covering a variety of markets and products, including derivatives, asset backed securities, swaps, and bond issues. He has an extensive background representing funds, corporations, commodities traders, accountants, trustees, and individuals.

"We are thrilled to welcome Ed to Jenner & Block's London office, where he will have an immediate and significant impact," said Co-Managing Partners Katya Jestin and Randy Mehrberg. "His experience and reputation for excellence adds further depth to our London bench of litigators and positions us for continued growth in the UK market."

Ed has vast experience advising clients in fraud cases, company disputes, and complex banking and fund-related matters. He also advises clients in connection with various commodities and trade finance matters, as well as regulatory issues. In addition to acting in High Court disputes, Ed has represented clients in contentious insolvency matters and in international arbitrations.

"Ed is a highly skilled litigator whose experience across a range of complex financial disputes and reputation in the London market will be an asset to our growing office," said Chair of the firm's London Litigation and Arbitration practice, Jason Yardley. "Ed is a very experienced litigator who has served in numerous leadership positions within a leading international litigation firm, his experience and skillset complements our existing team perfectly."

"I am really looking forward to working with a deep bench of talented lawyers across the entire firm and having the opportunity to further develop Jenner's litigation practice in London," said Ed.

Ed comes to Jenner & Block from Stephenson Harwood, a well-known and respected international law firm, where he spent his entire career and served in numerous leadership positions. Ed was previously co-head of its Litigation Practice in London and has also been a member of the Global Risk Committee as well as the remuneration panel.
