As event co-chair, Rebekah will moderate three panels: "Increased State Regulation of Cable and Broadband," "Priorities and Current Issues at the Federal Communications Commission (FCC)," and "Updates on Rollout and Deployment of the Broadband Equity, Access, and Deployment (BEAD) Program and Other Federal Deployment Programs."

Aaron will participate in the panel, "Cybersecurity and National Security Issues in Broadband and Cable," addressing emerging trends and developments in cybersecurity and national security issues impacting broadband networks.

Luke will join the panel "Impact of Poles and Franchising Developments on Broadband Networks," which will discuss conflicts in these areas, issues facing new entrants and incumbents, and policies that promote both efficient deployment and protection of existing facilities and rights of way.

Jenner & Block is hosting a cocktail reception following PLI's conference. Join us at our New York office at 1155 Avenue of the Americas, from 5:00 - 7:00 pm ET. RSVP here.

With over 25 years of experience practicing communications and law and policy in government and private practice, Rebekah leads clients through issues and opportunities related to broadband, telecom transactions, and antitrust work for telecom mergers.

Leveraging his cross-sector experience from the highest levels of government and private practice, Aaron helps clients navigate the dynamic intersection of emerging technologies, geopolitical competition, and national security.

Luke is a litigator in the firm's Communications, Internet, and Technology Practice as well as in its Content, Media, and Entertainment Practice. He has over 15 years of experience representing communications providers and content owners in cases at the forefront of online intellectual property protection.
