December 15, 2025

The Daily Journal has recognized Century City and Los Angeles Office Managing Partner Brandon Fox as a Top White Collar Lawyer in 2025. The annual list identifies "California's most influential and effective white collar defense practitioners."

Brandon's profile highlights his extensive experience as the former chief of the criminal division of the US Attorney's Office for the Central District of California where he led one of the largest criminal divisions in the Department of Justice and prosecuted public corruption cases.

Brandon is Co-Chair of Jenner & Block's Investigation, Compliance and Defense Practice and has practiced law for more than 20 years. His path to white collar defense began in federal prosecution where he was mentored by Patrick Fitzgerald, former US Attorney for the Northern District of Illinois. "The most important lesson [Pat] taught me was that the best way to represent your client is to do so aggressively, ethically, and fearlessly," Brandon said.

Brandon shared insights about what attracts him to white collar defense work: "I was drawn to white collar matters because of the complexity and high-stakes nature of the cases, and the opportunity to make a meaningful impact on significant legal challenges."
